

TREASURE CHEST

June
1934

Foreword

In keeping with the modern developments in modes of transportation and in science, and in view of the fact that our own school is one of the most modern in the Northwest, we have followed a modernistic trend of ideas in presenting this Treasure Chest to you.

In every detail the staff has endeavored to carry out this theme and it is hoped that after you have read this book you will have a better knowledge and a more thorough understanding of the organizations and standards of Rogers.

The
Treasure Chest

This memory book is published by the Senior Class of June, 1934,
John R. Rogers High School
Spokane, Washington

Dedication

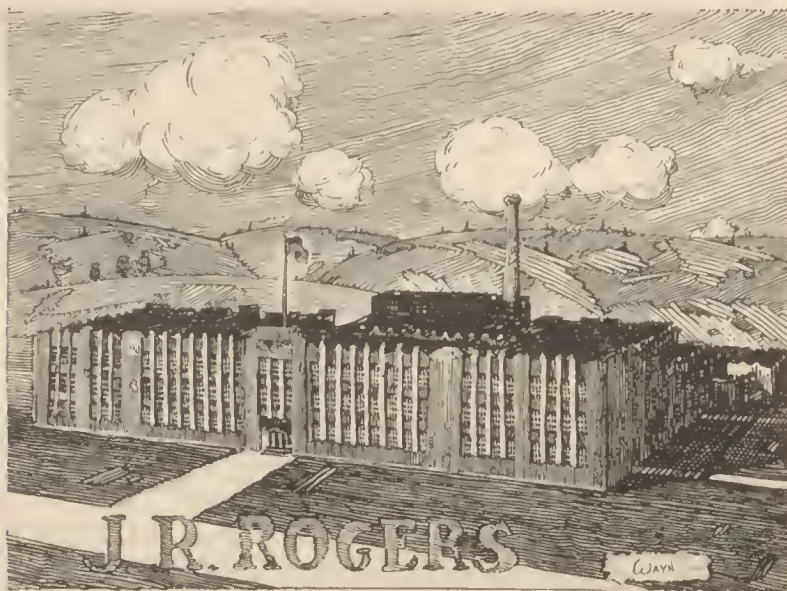

To the new Rogers Playfield and to the indefinable something, sometimes called Spirit, which made it possible, this book is dedicated.

ALMA MATER.

In the golden sunset of the Westland
 None her splendor to deny,
 Staunch and noble stands our Alma Mater.
 We love thee, Rogers High!
 In each contest we'll uphold thee,
 Lift thy banner to the sky.

As of old the Red man bowed to Rogers
 As he marched with head held high,
 So our foes, whatever the endeavor,
 Will bow to Rogers High!
 Ever loyal, Alma Mater,
 We will shout thy name on high.

When our days within thy walls are ended,
 And the years fly swiftly by,
 Backward we shall turn with wistful gaze
 To the days at Rogers High!
 Loyal hearts, our strong devotion
 We will pledge thee till we die.

Chorus.

Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah for mighty Rogers,
 We sing of Rogers High.

Class History

Years and years ago, four years to be exact, our famous football stars were mere babes toddling about in their first long trousers. They were somewhat innocent and a little green and were not then surrounded by a group of awe-struck girls. Their first crash into the "400" was made in the Gym of the old Hillyard Hi at the Frosh Frolic.

The flashy athletes began warming up for their long career by entering into frosh football. This group of winners captured its first prize by taking the city basketball championship. Three additional successful years followed their first. The feminine part of the class has also been outstanding in athletics.

Junior Dramatics grasped several of the dramatically inclined students into their midst during the first year. Footlights next received the benefit of the talented thespians.

The regular school routine was interrupted during the latter part of the Freshman year by a fire which nearly reduced the upper floor of the annex to uselessness. However, necessity forced them to remain until the completion of the new building. During the rainy season, numerous leaks in the improvised roof required a number of buckets placed here and there to catch the moisture.

Open house and the dedication of the new school in the spring of 1932 drew huge crowds from all over the city. Soon the faculty and student body settled down to routine, and school life went on with regularity.

Each year the athletics of the school became greater, and high records were reached; some were even broken. Out of this class, came James Mathers, high point man in basketball; Wayne Harris, star of football and baseball; Victor Zerbst, Glenn Oster, and Tommy Mortensen, all of exceptional football ability. They were supported by many more of their classmates.

The girls, not to be outdone, came along with Carol Coffman, Marion Hodgson, on the tennis teams. Jane Thomas, Norma Cran, June Davis, Hazel Abrams, and Dot Freeborg, prominent in Girls' League, and girls' sports, and G. A. C.

Many of the members of the class have captured high laurels in opera and dramatics.

Now in their senior year the class has chosen to guide the "Good Ship Rogers" into port: President, Glenn Oster; Vice-president, Art Bland; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles Treffry, and Student Council, Victor Zerbst.

The class of 1934 has a very high scholarship standing. Those leading the group scholastically are: Valedictorian, James Palmer; Salutatorian, Lucile Bonner.

Those who served as president of the class during its four-year journey through the halls of learning were:

9B.	Jimmy Mathers
9A.	Norma Cran
10B.	James Anderson
10A.	Henry Berg
11B.	Bill O'Malley
11A.	Wayne Harris
12B.	Norma Cran
12A.	Glenn Oster

Brimming over with school spirit and ambition is the 12B class. It has not only striven for high grades but also for places in the extra-curricular activities.

Many from its ranks have achieved distinction and honor, and some hold the most coveted positions in the school. Good examples of this are Ulonda Perry, president of the Girls' League, and Eldwin Colony, treasurer of the Student Body.

The National Honor Society claims Helen Renfro, Frances Cowles, Helen Jean Merchant, Bob Murphy, Eldwin Colony, Robert Gregson, Della Hinshaw, Leo Haynes, Carne Haugan, Roybert Hanneman, Paul Ewing and Paul Hanneman.

Sports are well represented in this class. Thurman Cook, Dodge Dean, Paul Ewing, Jack Ramey, Bob Johnston, Mike Perry, Charles and Steve Tortorelli, and Bob Gregson are outstanding for the boys. Girls who are active are Doris Casey, Nellie Pilik, Della Hinshaw, Marjorie Hamaker, and Eloisellenderson.

Besides sports the field of dramatics has claimed many: Carne Haugan, Charles Treffry, Lynn Drake, Woody Pfeffer, Frances Cowles, and Ewing Irwin have made many stage appearances.

Outstanding in the Journalism department are Helen Renfro, Lawrence Northquist, Paul Hanneman, Arnola Setser and Bob Murphy, working on the Rogers Record.

Names of all the prominent students cannot be mentioned, because the class as a whole has been outstanding and has shown loyalty to the school in supporting all activities. Much is expected of them next fall in the way of leadership.

As the governing body of the entire school, the Student Council directs and supervises all school activities. The Council is to Rogers what Congress is to the United States. Each class elects a representative to this executive body. The class presidents, class representatives, the officers of the Girls' League, Boys' Federation, and the editor of the Rogers Record, make up the membership. The president of the group is also president of the Associated Student Body.

Every Tuesday morning the Council meets to discuss and decide any problem of importance to the school. The chief work of the Student Council the past semester has been the campaign to keep the halls and grounds clean. A common court, for minor offenses, is held after school to try students who cause untidiness in the building or on the grounds. A Supreme Court has been established for the more important cases. Max Gray, president of the Council, is the judge of the Supreme Court.

Members of the Student Council the first semester were:

Thelma Bateman, Carol Coffman, Norma Cran, Royal Cutler, Dodge Dean, Noel Dickens, Maxine Elliott, Glen Fairburn, Donald Gardner, Amadee Gendreaux, Marjorie Hamaker, John Kludt, Delma Laundry, James Mathers, George Martin, Kenneth Nelson, Dorothy Nygren, Bill O'Malley, Glenn Oster, Frank Pebles, Naomi Pershall, Albert Poffenroth, Patricia Saltz, Maude Thorson, Donald Whittaker.

Members of the Student Council the second semester were:

Don Amsbury, Art Anderson, Lucile Bonner, Don Clarke, Eldwin Colony, Betty Cowan, Dodge Dean, Dick Felber, Lorraine Felber, Dorothy Freeborg, Max Gray, Alice Hale, Delnore Hopkins, Mildred Kennedy, Astri Larson, Jack Lovejoy, Dolly McGrath, Bob Murphy, Bill O'Malley, Glenn Oster, Jimmy Palmer, Glen Pebles, Jack Sjostrom, Jane Thomas, Steve Tortorelli, Vic Zerbst.

Mr. Meyer, Miss Finnegan, and Mr. Byrne are the faculty advisers.

The National Honor Society was organized in the spring of 1927 under the auspices of the Harding Debate Club. It is sponsored by the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association and is a junior branch of the college organization Phi Beta Kappa.

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor that can be achieved by a Rogers student. Only those students who are in the 12A, 12B, or 11A classes are eligible for membership. Qualifications necessary for admittance are:

character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Twice a year, members of the faculty recommend outstanding students for admittance. From this list are chosen those most worthy of the honor. At a special convocation the new members are announced. This is done by means of the "tap" system. The initiation of the new members takes place in the spring at an impressive ceremony, usually in the form of a banquet.

Carol Coffman is president. The faculty advisers to the group are Mr. Meyer and Mr. Jinnett.

Every girl who enters John R. Rogers automatically becomes a member of the Girls' League. The purpose of the League is to settle any problems that may occur and to promote friendship and interest for each girl in the school. The League is a very important department of the school.

The present council of the group contains the four Girls' League officers, the department chairmen, and their assistants. The League is divided into four departments with each department having different sub-divisions. This is done to make the work more effective and to give each girl an equal chance.

The Entertainment Department has charge of furnishing all the League functions with entertainment. For general cons and departmental meetings, they furnish numbers. They sponsor a Christmas program and help with the Big and Little Sister Party. This department is divided into five different sub-divisions which are: Musieal, Singing, Poster, Invitation, and Dancing. Each member may work on any one of these she chooses.

Miss Budwin is the faculty director for the Entertainment Department and Miss La Fevre is her assistant. Frances Cowles was chairman the first semester, and the second semester chairman was Helen Renfro.

The Social Service Department has a great deal of territory to cover. The Big and Little Sister group is one of the main ones. This group takes charge of the freshmen girls and any new girls from other schools. The big sister shows her little sister to her rooms and helps her become properly adjusted to the school. If she is slow in any subject, the big sister tutors her or gets a tutor for her. A party is given each semester for the little sisters for the purpose of getting acquainted. Dor-

The Boys' Federation was first organized in the old Hillyard High in May, 1927. Its purpose is to encourage leadership and social and scholastic activities.

One important work of the Federation is to have some outstanding person speak on subjects which will help the boys to become acquainted with different phases of business and the professions.

The Boys' Federation takes part in Christmas activities; and one of the annual affairs of the Federation is to have a "Dads' Mixer."

The following boys make up the executive committee: John Jilbert, chairman; Dick Felber, Reg Wold, Lex Templin, John Lemon, Roybert Hanneman, Seth Huneywell, and Melvin Westerdahl. Upper Class Advisory Committee: Walter Dieter, chairman; Leo Haynes, Woodrow Pfeffer, Lynn Drake, LaVern Barth, Roybert Hanneman, Dodge Dean, Robert Murphy, Wayne Harris, Bill O'Malley, and Bob Russell.

Freshman Patrol: Arthur Mackey, chairman; William Ellis, Virgil Edstrom, Richard Van Slyke, Howard Clukcy.

Program Committee: George Dieter, chairman; Paul Ewing, Leonard Larkin.

Hall Patrol: Art Anderson, chairman; Ray Creed, James Carlson, Glen Chambers, Ewing Irwin, Dick Wark, and Kenneth Wallace.

The first semester committees were:

Executive Committee Karl Peterson, chairman; John Kludt, Max Gray, Ed Bergen, Jimmy Palmer, Dixon Meyers, Paul Hanneman, Bob Gregson.

The Art Club is one of the most active organizations at Rogers. This club was organized by Mr. Hughes, art instructor, in September, 1927. To become a member, the student must hand in some of his own art work which is then judged by the members. Club members have charge of the posters for all school operettas, cons, and plays. This year they sponsored the sale of Pirate heads. During the year a paycon is presented and several parties and outings are held.

Organized in 1933 by Mr. I. R. Minzel and Mr. L. Saltz, the Cosmic Club has been active in affairs of the school.

The object of the club is to stimulate interests in natural sciences and give a select few, who show an aptitude in science, an opportunity to do things. Individuals put on special demonstrations and the club takes field trips through various industrial concerns.

Places that have been visited by the club are the Millwood Paper Mill, Telephone Company, Washington Water Power, Chronicle, Packing Houses, Flour Mills and various manufacturing concerns. New aspirants are elected by the old members and they must have had either Chemistry or Physics.

The Footlights Club, organized in 1926 under the leadership of J. L. Purdy, has attracted an abundance of outstanding talent. Membership is limited to 16 boys and 16 girls. The club aims at better dramatics, better scholarship, and better service.

The club presents many plays each semester and club members take an active part in all school plays. Each member of the club aids in selling tickets to these productions.

The French Club was organized in November, 1931, and does its share to make Rogers High School known in foreign lands as well as in America. Members of the club make a scrap book each year. This year the book was about the State of Washington and the World's Fair.

The membership of the club is composed of students who have taken French at least two semesters.

In the fall of 1928 the Girls' Athletic Club was organized to promote interest in athletics and sportsmanship among the girls. The club now elects additional members from groups of girls who have received their 350 points in athletics.

Emblems awarded for participation in girls' athletics are: 100 points, numerals; 200 points, purple crescent; 300 points, purple and white crescent; 400 points, shields; and 500 points, Girls League letter "R". For any additional points, after being awarded the letter, a star is placed on the letter for every extra 100 points.

Fifty points are received for the following sports. Basketball volleyball, and baseball. Twenty-five points are given for tumbling and tennis.

The club emblem is a purple and white triangle with letters, "G. A. C." on it. There are now 24 members in the club.

One of the most active clubs in school is the Harding Debate Club, which was organized on November 4, 1923. This club assisted in the organization of the National Honor Society.

The club has an interest in debate and sponsors a banquet in honor of the debaters each year. The members are also dramatically inclined and two "pay cons" are presented annually.

The Montero Club was organized by Mr. Black, for the purpose of promoting an interest in outdoor sports among the boys of the school. Several hikes are taken each semester. This club differs from the other clubs of Rogers in that it has no officers. However, a "leader" is appointed before each hike or outing. The club members wear gray shirts, with the official emblem superimposed.

COMMENCEMENT

Adopting the modern trend in education, which aims towards commencements that leave a definite and valuable message with the graduate, the June graduating class wrote and produced an elaborate pageant, which they used in place of the regulation commencement exercises.

Members of the class acted as Thespians, playwrights, costume designers, scenery painters, and even carpenters. Every graduate had a part in the pageant, which was supervised by J. M. Tewinkel, head of the English Department.

The theme was built around the seven cardinal aims of education which are: (1) to build ethical character, (2) to develop the fundamental processes in the mind, (3) to build healthy bodies, (4) to prepare for a vocation, (5) to prepare for good citizenship, (6) to train for home membership, (7) to teach worthy use of leisure time.

The following were the members of Mr. Tewinkel's English VIII class who helped in the production:

Football

First L. C. Game

In a clean, hard-fought game Rogers opened the series with a 13-7 win over L. C. Rogers scored early in a sustained drive from midfield, capped with a short pass, from Mathers to Moberly. The try for point was good. Rogers then held the upper hand until the third quarter, when L. C. dominated the play.

With four minutes to go, Rogers scored on the only real break of the game. As Mathers dropped back to pass from the L. C. 29-yard mark, the pass was partially blocked and fell into the hands of Red Harris, who carried it to the one-yard line. On the next play Moberly went over the goal line to make the final six points.

Dedication Game

In keeping with one of the oldest jinx of high school and college football, the Rogers gridsters lost their first game on the home field.

Although the score was 19-0 for the Bullpups, the game was not one-sided. The Pirates piled up 11 first downs to Gonzaga's four.

In the first five minutes Rogers hammered the Gonzaga forward wall and drove to the Bullpup 25-yard line where they lost the ball on an incomplete forward pass.

Gonzaga then uncorked some of the smartest football seen in a long time. Through beautiful deceptive plays Hurley scored two touchdowns and McBreen scored one.

First N. C. Game

"Just one of those things" is a fitting definition for the outcome of the first N. C. game. The Pirates threatened to score early but were halted on the N. C. 28-yard line. Jarenko, Indian half-back, broke away for a 40-yard gain on the first play and then kept Rogers in the hole by some neat kicks to the corners.

The Pirates came back tough in the third quarter, Harris smashing his way to pay dirt in a 60-yard drive. Rogers again took possession of the ball and when the game was over it was six inches from a touchdown, a beautiful pass and catch by Poffenroth and Harris netting five yards as the game ended.

Girls' Sports

MANAGERS

Volleyball (fall)	Nellie Pilik
Basketball (winter)	Phyllis Henderson
Baseball (spring)	Dorothy McGrath
Director of Girls' Sports	Miss Barger

Interest in grls' sports increased to a marked degree this year. Many girls are becoming interested in earning their "R's." During the past year about five hundred seventy girls turned out for sports. The number of girls that turned out for these various sports are as follows: Tennis 35, tumbling 61, volleyball 153, basketball 156, baseball 165.

The Girls' Athletic Club voted on having track providing baseball did not interfere; twenty-five points are given for this activity.

The Girls' Athletic Club, with the help of Miss Barger, has succeeded in supervising volleyball, baseball and basketball.

The managers had to get the referees, which are G. A. C. girls only, they had to plan the games and see that they went off on schedule.

The winners of the volleyball tournament were the 12A's. Their captain was Josephine Bruna. The basketball championship was won by the 11A (1) team, their captain being Alice Barnes. They played the 12A team which hadn't lost a game until the championship match.

The other players of the winning team were Mina Mullen, Vonda McMillan, Maxine Cumming, Naomi Pershall, Crystal Frank, Helen Linden, Dolly McGrath, and Joyce Lyberger.

Tumbling was started last fall by the girls who showed an ability in this line. The squad was divided into two classes, the upper and the lower. They gave outstanding performances during the season. They were presented at the Harding Debate Club eon, the P.-T. A., the Open House, and at the Longfellow School.

Other requests were from the Arlington and Bemiss schools; however, they could not accommodate these because the season was over.

Class Will

To whom it may concern, be it known that we, the senior class of John R. Rogers high school, Class of '34, being of sane mind and sound body, do hereby publish and declare this to be our last will and testament, revoking all previous wills made by one or all of us.

Hazel Abrams wills to Marjorie Hamaker her ability as an athlete.

Edith Adams wills her long eyelashes to Hazel Welsh, who doesn't especially need them.

Dorothy Ahlin wills her acting ability to Dorothy Johnson.

Ernest Allen wills all new students his cute brogue so that they might get ahead in the world as he has.

Robert Alliston leaves his quaint excuses for tardiness to Duane Waldron, who needs excuses.

Avis Anderson and Henry Berg leave their ability to stay on the good side of the teachers to those who need it—(practically everyone).

Donald Anderson wills his ability to make fire extinguishers that won't work to Bill Steele.

Francis Arnold wills his motorcycle to Dean Rattray.

Mable Barber wills her fluffy shingle bob to John Lemon.

Harriet Boyd leaves Marie Strasser the many boy friends.

Ralph Birdsong leaves his terraplane to Dodge Dean, providing he promises not to paint it his favorite design.

Dave Bishop wills his interest in girls to Dick Beaumont.

Tom Black leaves his boxing ability to Noel Dickens, who may use it in later life.

Art Bland gives to Bob Murphy all his old battered and worn tennis balls.

Lucile Bonner wills to Blanche Evans her charming ability to pose pleasingly for the photographer.

Lloyd Brink bequeaths his popularity with the girls to Kenneth Beal.

Kay Bro and Inez Sjostrom leave their mouse-like air to Mike Perry.

Edna Mae Caldwell leaves Lawrence

Northquist her prayers and hopes for his quick graduation.

Evelyn Carney bequeaths her secret art of attracting the boys' attention to Louise Hoogstad.

Jess Carrico leaves his captivating smile to William Simpson, providing he uses it to an advantage—as has "Bubby."

Agnes Casperson leaves her good penmanship to Mr. Frissell.

Blossom Clark leaves her curly hair to Annie Dillon.

Carol Coffman wills her ability to wield the paddle at initiation parties to Pearl Mary Copeland.

Herman Coleman leaves his ability to swing a mean tennis racquet to Bob Eppler.

Maxine Cortright leaves the job of editing this Annual to anyone with the "yen" for calling important meetings and taking pictures.

Milton Chesebro leaves his ability to make friends in such a short time to Bob De La Grange.

Chester Campbell leaves his manly voice to the future chorus classes, which may seem strange without him.

Norma Cran and June Davis leave their knowledge and knowing ways to Louada Harris.

Opal Curry wills her good luck to Ella Strand.

Maxine Daly leaves her spick-and-spanness to Cleadith Ralston.

Ardyce Davisson leaves her ability to think out deep problems to Mildred Peterson.

Amy Dicken wills her eating ability to Marjorie Reynolds.

George Dieter and his saxophone leave us without saying goodbye.

Walter Dieter wills his pull with the teachers to the freshmen—(goodness knows they need it).

Jim Dillon leaves the teachers a vote of thanks for the graduation gift—a nice diploma!

Lucille Eckert leaves her alertness to Grace Arthur.

Seniors in the Past

Seniors in the Future

I am sitting at a large mahogany desk, a scroll unrolled before me. It is the prophecy I made for the Rogers' graduation class of '34, twenty-five years ago. Curiosity has overcome me—I am going to look into my crystal ball to find out if my predictions were right . . .

"There—a twist of the wrist and I see the first picture":

A long, winding, dusty road and here comes Avis Anderson, champion bicyclist of the west, pushing a bike with a punctured tire. She is given assistance by Henry Berg, who is a fish peddler on the road to Mandalay.

George Wunderlich, famous violinist, is giving a concert at the Auditorium theater. Jimmy Mathers is delivering an oration (soap box) on Monroe Street bridge. Dorothy McGrath, his housekeeper, is standing near: Dave Bishop is gallantly wielding a mean broom and pushing a little cart down Trent avenue. Oscar Ward is the warden at the county jail.

Here is the circus. Let's go in and see our friends: Harold Trerise is the strong man; John Hannah (just to fool people) is the bearded lady; Phyllis Henderson is the snake charmer; the fat woman is none other than Agnes Loskot; the midget is—yes—Francis Arnold; our Wild West cowboy hero is LaVern Hansen; Milton Chesebro is the sword swallower; the champion "hula" dancers are Elva Shriner and Amy Dicken; Kenny Erickson and Betta Jane Gutsch are the animal trainers; finally comes the flea circus, owned and trained by Kay Bro. Opal Curry is selling her invention of hair remover for bald people at the circus, and her customer is Lucille Erickson, who is having a hard time with her eleven children.

Edna Mae Caldwell is the president of Mead High. Her fellow teachers are Lucille Bonner, instructor of manual arts; Blossom Clark, dramatic coach; Maxine Daly, football coach; Lester Nicholl, dancing instructor; Tom Black, sewing teacher, and Jim Seibert, professor of astronomy.

Hollywood has called many of the class of 1934—two of the most famous stars are Georgia and Bill McDaniel, who have started an amazing "brother-and-sister" act which has astonished the world. Reg Wold is the one and only designer of clothes in Hollywood. Maxine Cortright is the prize mannikin in his dress shop. Vic Zerbst canvasses from door to door selling women's ready-to-wear designed by the Wold shop. Bob and Jane Russell have founded the "Chiseling Shoppe" — something new and out of the ordinary. Need I add that they are married?

Arthur Vincent, the second Babe Ruth, is in Hollywood, also, trying his luck as a "torch singer."

Let's go down the main street of Agua Caliente—Jack Simonson's antique shop is right on the corner; next door is Ruth Short's waffle-house. Then there is the beauty shop operated by Winifred Johnson—she certainly couldn't do without Harriet Boyd, who is manicurist.

Now for a trip north, where Dorothy Neils is opening and shutting the Golden Gate. Harvey Mott is leaving for Russia as ambassador from the U. S. He will walk to Russia on shoes made by the "O'Malley Hot Air Company," of which Bill O'Malley is the president.

On the way to Salt Lake City we see Evelyn Koenig and Herman Coleman catching snakes for the snake ranch owned by Lucille Eckert.

At Salt Lake City Lloyd Kirschke is destroying grasshoppers by catching them with a net and feeding them to fish and the chickens on the ranch owned by Bill Sontag and Lloyd Brink. These chickens are sold to the "Chop Suey Joint" owned by Mr. Thomas Mortensen, inventor of the famous instruments which make spaghetti eating a pleasure. This company sends all the scraps to the cat and dog farm owned by Miss Cran, Miss Ellis, Miss Davis and Miss Thomas—they prized freedom more than they prized any Rogerite lad! On the farm next to this one peanuts are raised by Wayne Lammers, owner. Ruth Johnson and Ardyce Davisson share the peanuts with the monkeys in the zoo.

Dressed in a neat surplice, Clyde Rat-tray is an impressive choir director; Doris Peterson is his able organist.

Just a wee glimpse at Idaho before we go east. Jerie Lloyd has a large dude ranch. June Kelly is "right hand man." Edith Adams is the mayor of Pine Tree valley. Wilbert Hobbs and Elmer Thorson are vegetable vendors.

Frances and Viola Stewart are manufacturing dog biscuits! Harold Taylor is making medicine for the dogs that eat Stewart's Dog Biscuits.

The one and only Fuller brush man is Harold Thompson! His lawyer is Harry Leonard, specialist in breach-of-promise cases. His dentist, Charles McCulloch, is married to Adaline Ostby, champion flag pole sifter.

The president of the United States is none other than "Chuck" Roberts. He is holding a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria, where Evelyn Carney is head dietitian, Martin Henry and Ray Higgins are hashers there, and Chester Campbell is a pearl diver. Present at the banquet is Princess Maude Thorson, wife of a Georgian prince. Cora Fritz, I forgot to mention, is "Chuck" Roberts' wife, the first lady!

Rosa Elvigan and Walt Dieter are writing verses for valentines. Charley Moreland is the author of philosophical books. Mel Westerdahl, king of gangsters, is after two people: Stanford White, a bold sailor, and Lloyd Edstrom, famous French pianist! (Because they have two girls and Mel has none.)

Hazel Lewis dives for dimes in the South Seas and Thelma Judd, a Red Cross nurse, takes care of Hazel's health. Art Bland is peddling bologna (25 years haven't changed him a bit). Marion Hodgson is an exotic titian beauty in London.

Virginia Jellison, A. B. C. D., is president of the Everlasting Chewing Gum Corporation. Ralph Birdsong and Jimmie Palmer reside in the city park. Their bedrooms are the fourth and fifth benches from the end! Ed Miller is a traveling salesman from the Hillyard tin shop. Carl Lewis is trying to pass tin nickels to everyone.

At the New York Opera House, Zelda Prichard and Ernest Allen are employed. Zelda is the "box office ticket seller" and Ernest is the head usher and sometimes sings tenor in the productions! On NBC, Doris Frost, Mable Barber and Agnes Casperson are a favorite trio. "Uncle Vernal" Moberly reads bedtime stories every evening. Jim Dillon is in charge of the controls room.

George Dieter is editor of the New York Times. Leonard Linebarger washes windows in the Chrysler building. The lead-

Lloyd Edstrom leaves his ability to go about unnoticed to Max Gray.

Ardath Ellis wills her glasses to Dixon Meyers to prevent him from star gazing.

Rosa Elvigan leaves that "much-used" bottle of peroxide to you "would-be" blondes.

Kenneth Erickson and Delbert Larson want to leave the school.

Lucille Erickson wills her delight in being stubborn to Dolly McGrath.

Dick Felber and Harold Thompson will their power to blush and still look sweet to Bill Campbell.

Dorothy Freeborg bequeaths to Eleanor Jinnett her giggles.

Cora Fritz leaves her place in cons to a Senior B.

Doris Frost wills her secret sorrow to Anna Belle Peers.

Thelma Gassow leaves the Gassow name to be carried forward.

Elvera Glendenning leaves her lady-like ways to Grace Walker.

Wallace Grant, Lester Gray and Wheeler Griffin leave their abilities to elude any and all forms of labor to the freshies, who seem to be doing it anyway.

Betta Jane Gutsch wills her best currying iron to Theo Pha Edmonson.

John Hannah and Stanford White leave their big line and the ability to make ten girls think they are "the only one" to those dashing young sophs.

La Vern Hansen leaves his short pants to LaVern Barth.

Wayne Harris wills his red hair and largest freckle (it's on his nose) to Max Lilienthal, who already has a collection of freckles.

Martin Henry wills his ambition to become Principal of Moab Hi to some one else.

Wilbert Hobbs wills his beard to Jack Simonson.

Marion Hodgson leaves her dimples to Helen McCreary with which to captivate hearts.

Virginia Jellison wills to Gordon Olson her booklet entitled, "Why Be Bashful?"

John Jilbert bequeaths his fallen arches to Al Poffenroth.

Ruth Johnson leaves her long and beautiful finger-nails to Naomi Peters.

Winifred Johnson leaves all the gray hair she has acquired in the Journalism office to Mr. Byrne. The Brute!

Thelma Judd and Gwendolyn Keiser will their abilities to pull the wool over the eyes of the unsuspecting faculty unnoticed, to Oscar Crain.

June Kelly leaves her ability to argue in class meetings to the Senior B's.

Doris Kipp wills her striking "Poison-ality plus" to Viola Getman.

Evelyn Koenig and Helen Learn bequeath that tooth paste smile to Maxine Rinear.

Walter Krogel wills his ability as a sprinter and jumper to the future track team.

Wayne Lammers leaves his drawing abilities to Max Barkhurst.

Leonard Larkin and Agnes Larson will their dramatic personalities to Robert Bithell and Lucille Murphy.

Phyllis Henderson leaves her power to make music to any circus snake charmer.

Delma Laundry bequeaths her talkative way to Carne Haugan.

Harry Leonard wills his ability as a hockey player to Earl Sanford.

Carl Lewis and Hazel Lewis leave their scholastic honors to "the less brilliant specimens."

Leonard Linebarger and Charles McCulloch will their ability to play tiddle-de-winks to Henry Freeman.

Dorothy Lloyd gives Nellie Betts her gift of gab.

Jerie Lloyd bequeaths to Eloise Sloan her love for "conversation."

Agnes Loskot leaves some of her phone-call dates to Frances Nicholl.

Dorothy McGrath leaves two beautiful dimples to Doris Casey.

Georgia McDaniel and Rispa Ringo leave their quarrel-proof friendship to Jean Stipe and Lucille Forshee.

Betty Anne Mathews wills her ability to argue with Mr. Saltz and not blush to Geneva Johnston.

Ed Miller wills his ability to eat soup without making too much noise to Jack Sjostrom.

Vernal Moberly wills his clever swagger to Max Lemon. Come on, Max, swing that wicked foot.

Tom Mortensen wills to Fred Miller his desire to become the football coach.

Dorothy Neils and Agnes Nelson leave their locker full of paper and what have you, to the janitor.

Lester Nieholl and Rodger Olin leave their lovely blonde locks to a certain Junior girl.

Bill Olson gives to Lyle Forgey his excellent English grades.

Bill O'Malley leaves Vonda McMillan his best regards. Hot stuff

Adaline Ostby wills her way of catching on to jokes to whom it may concern.

Glenn Oster, our class president, leaves Jack Meyer his persuasive power.

James Palmer wills his editorial abilities to Helen Renfro.

Arlene Peterson leaves her inquisitive disposition to the Snooper Writer of next year.

Doris Peterson leaves her happy-go-lucky and free spirit to Norma Hammer.

Zelda Prichard wills to Bill Deidrick her splendid height, not including French heels.

Clyde Rattray leaves his curly locks to Keith Campbell, hoping he can capture glances of the fair sex.

Charles Roberts gives up trying to imitate Bing Crosby but he hopes Leslie Shaw fills the vacancy.

George Robinson and Bob Russell will their extra credits (to any 12B who may need it before graduation. Apply at office.)

Jane Russell wills to Virginia Storm her love for the boys.

Ilda Rutherford leaves to Sarah Fjellstad her ability to eat spaghetti with chop sticks.

Paul Ryner leaves his eloquence of speech to Harry Miller.

Eddie Sandberg leaves his ability to win arguments with Mr. Jinnett to Jimmy Davis.

Lueille Sapp wills her ability to play tennis to some young freshie.

Kenneth Sheppard leaves a large number of fool-proof excuses for some lower classman.

Ruth Short leaves her woolly sweater to Fern Swanson.

Elva Shriner leaves her dignity to Al Stokke.

Laura Smith wills her stature to Alice Allen.

Bill Sontag leaves his flow of eloquence to Art Charles.

Francis Stewart leaves his wild and entrancing ways to Bill Rubright.

Viola Stewart bequeaths her dignified bearing to Helen Hickok.

Ellsworth Stokke, Elmer Thorson and Harold Taylor leave their knowledge that Napoleon was also a small man to Roybert Hanneman, Glen Chambers and Paul Ewing.

Jane Thomas leaves 24 hours a day to Ulonda Perry.

Florence Thompson wills her one dimple to Carl Moberly.

Esther Thormodsgard wills her curiosity to the eat.

Maude Thorson leaves the extra half-year she didn't use to someone who will need it.

Harold Trerise leaves his ability as a lawyer to Wilder Peterson.

Arthur Vineent and Osear Ward leave to Mr. Becher their knowledge of who made "Lincoln's Gettysburg address."

Mayme Welsh wills her unusual character and dramatic ability for fainting and screaming to Gwen Wells.

Sylvia Wendel leaves any given number of good grades to Gerry Mix.

Melvin Westerdahl wills his modesty to the shy little violet.

Reg Wold leaves his good spirits to the Younger Moffatt.

George Wunderlick leaves his nonchalant ways to some of those blushing freshmen.

Victor Zerbst leaves his ability for securing "A's" to Jack Ramey.

James Mathers wills to Bill Potter his ability to come to school late and get away with it.

ing golf champion of the world is none other than Betty Ann Mathews!

Delma Laundry operates a "honky tonk" in New York. Rodger Olin, man-about-town, escorts Countess Gwen Keiser to the club every night. Leonard Larkin and Donald Anderson are the bouncers. Among the entertainers are Hazel Abrams, talented toe dancer; Kenneth Sheppard, acrobatic dancer; Wallace Grant and his famous orchestra. Ilda Rutherford and Paul Ryner are gigolette and gigolo.

Earl Sanford is a riveter far above the city. Lester Gray juggles milk bottles at 3 a. m. every day. Wheeler Griffin is a bill collector for Woolworth's!

Now, at Vassar, Wayne Harris is president and Dick Felber is dean and physical education director—the only two men who ever entered Vassar. Laura Smith is riding instructor and Inez Sjostrom teaches technocratic entomology. Miss Dorothy Ahlin, H. R., H. R., is the vice president of the college as well as being director of agriculture. Agnes Nelson is touring the country as a beauty culture expert who is in favor of plain soap and water. Sylvia Wendel escorts her everywhere in her plane.

George Robinson is captain of the boat which is taking Agnes Larson and her husband, Walt Krogel, to Africa, where they will make motion pictures. Carol Coffman and Dorothy Freeborg are missionaries in the darkest heart of Africa. Eddie Sandberg is their guide—he speaks the native language.

Esther Thormodsgard is collecting hearts broken by Florence Thompson, who is president of the "Wall Flower Girls."

Second L. C. Game

Although it looked for a while as if the Tigers might experience the rare thrill of winning a game, the final score, 7-7, dashed their hopes into the muddy Rogers gridiron.

Right at the start the Pirates got going, taking the ball on the Orange 38 stripe and scoring within the first two minutes. Harris dove across for the extra point.

From then until the third period, the teams swayed back and forth between the 20-yard marks. Stansbury went across but was called back on a clipping penalty.

The Tigers came back strong in the second half, Peterson and Miller doing the heavy duty line bucking. After tying the game, L. C. threatened to score several times, but they were stopped in each case.

Second N. C. Game

After losing a game and tying one, the Pirates did the logical thing and won over the Indians in their second fray. N. C. came primed to win and were picked as favorites to take back the gilded crown, but much to their disappointment, Rogers bucked across their goal after a short march, starting when Wassenar's punt from deep in his territory skidded off his foot for a mere nine yards. The Pirates stubbornly kept this lead and were successfully defending against a last minute pass attack when the gun boomed. Harris' sterling work and the "smack 'em down" tackles of Stansbury were the bright lights in Rogers' attack.

Second Gonzaga Game

North Central had tamed the Bullpups twice; Rogers fought the Indians to a tie and then beat them. All of which made the Pirates a favorite to win their final game, but this was just "dope." Dope-upsetting was the chief dish on the football menu for last fall.

To make a short story shorter, the Irish were once more in the money as the result of smart football, and making use of the breaks of the game, which netted them only one touchdown. The final scoring of one of the most spectacular and important games of the season was 6-0.

Wayne "Red" Harris was voted the Bland medal and Jimmy Mathers was elected honorary captain.

Those given letters were:

Third year: Wayne Harris and Paul Stansbury.

Second year: Jimmy Mathers and Tom Hansen.

First year awards were given to: Ed Bergen, Tom Black, Art Bland, Dodge Dean, Dick Felber, John Jilbert, Bob Johnston, Nick Julian, Carl Lewis, Vernal Moberly, Tom Mortensen, Glenn Oster, Bill O'Malley, Mike Perry, Bill Steele, Harold Thompson, Steven Tortorelli, and Vic Zerbst.

"B" Squad

At the call of Coach James Elsensohn 40 willing boys turned out to uphold Rogers on the "B" squad. From these was built one of the strongest teams in the district. In six games which included contests with Whitworth College, West Valley, Central Valley, and Mead, the "B" gridders rolled up four wins against two losses and a tie.

othy Lloyd has charge of this group.

A new division has started under the direction of Lucille Sapp. This is the Tour group. They inspect many of the interesting places in Spokane. The aim is to improve their knowledge on different subjects in which they are interested.

The Christmas committee did a great piece of work this year. Presents and food were collected for families here in our own district. A quilt made by the girls was sent to the Washington Children's Home.

For the first semester Dorothy Northrop was in charge of this department and Anna Hollander for the second semester. Miss Herbert is the faculty adviser.

Valuable services are rendered to the school by the School Welfare Department. The faculty adviser is Miss McMahan. Josephine Bruna was head of this division the first semester and Opal Mors the leader the second semester.

This department consists of the following committees: Rest Room, Office, Scrap Book, Honor Roll, Entertainment, Hall Patrol, and Handkerchief.

This department takes charge of all the

Any historical news that is needed the Scrap Book group can furnish. This group has a large file with all the important dates and happenings of Rogers.

The primary purpose of the Sports Department is to promote a greater interest in sports and health. This is generally the largest group with an enrollment of over 100.

The different sub-divisions are as follows: Handy Andy, Hiking, Gym Office, Poster, Games, and Weighing and Measuring.

The Games group was organized last semester by Ulonda Perry. Once a month a party is held in the cafeteria for all the girls. Many games take place and everyone has a good time.

The Handy Andy committee has charge of checking towels and showers in the different gym classes.

Last semester Dorothy McGrath was chairman of this department, and this semester Ulonda Perry is in charge. Miss Barger is the faculty adviser.

The purpose of the 9B department under the direction of Miss Finnegan is to acquaint the girls with the customs and traditions of the school so they may enjoy their work while at Rogers.

One of the principal projects is the tea given for the mothers of the girls at which the teachers may meet each girl's mother.

March 16 was a great day for the Rogers Girls League Council. A St. Patrick's Tea was given for the other two Senior High Schools and the Junior High Schools. The purpose of the tea was to exchange ideas with the other schools about their Leagues.

OUR INQUIRING REPORTER

There's been a problem that has often been puzzling the girls. The boys have finally confessed and here are some of the startling answers:

James Palmer prefers blondes!

"Stubby" McGrath isn't very particular!

"Bubby" Carrico can't decide between blondes and "coppers."

Bill O'Malley says if Vonda is a brunette that's what he likes.

We know that Ralph Birdsong and Dave Bishop are that way about a red head.

"Dode" Irwin still prefers blondes.

Kenneth Sheppard said "Black," we think he means brunettes.

Gordon Goodman says emphatically "Red."

Eugene Recla said, "Anything but red-heads."

Both Dick Felber and Max Gray said that the type really makes no difference.

LaVern Barth, of course, prefers platinum blondes. He didn't say, but we all know.

Just what type does Ernest Allen prefer?

Somebody said all gentlemen prefer blondes—So what?

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

Ardyce Davisson forgetting to giggle.

Thea Culverwell not talking for awhile.

Charles Treffry or Roybert Hanneman with inferiority complexes.

Louie Fjelstad not acting tough.

Bob Russell and John Jilbert ballet dancers.

Ted Dawson getting an exemption slip.

Wayne Harris as the flirting type; would his face ever be red?

Dick Felber going in for dramatics rather than sports.

Floyd Bowers succeeding in growing a moustache.

Astri Larson never laughing.

Walter Barnes as Don Anderson's twin.

Marian Hodgson acting sophisticated.

Kenneth Sheppard running to a class.

Herman Coleman—"What time is it when a little dog with a black tail runs through the snow?"

Tom Mortensen—"I fall—What time?"

Herman—"Winter time."
